Dottie Pratley for Aquinas, St. John's Voted Queen

by BOB FLANAGAN

The best laid plans of mice and Michaelmen which often gang agley, ganged about as far as it is possible to ge this week when the weather man gave the Outing Club the stop sign on the skiing events for the Winter Carnival.

With the snow only inches deep on the Teardrop trail Wednesday, all skiing events were cancelled by the Club. Also cancelled was the St. Michael's - U.V.M. hockey game for Friday. Instead there will be a game this (Saturday) afternoon.

Fortunately, last night's Ball came off without a single cancellation. While Austin Hall echoed to the strains of the Barbary Coast Orchestra, 250 couples danced amid the red, green and gold spots reflected off the crystal ball which was a feature in Art Fraser's unique decorative scheme.

The lovely lady whose picture adorns the center column of the top row finally adjudged winner of the queen contest. Voting took place at registration Tuesday and Wednesday with the queen promised a crowning by His Excellency, Governor Ernest W. Gibson.

MEET THE QUEEN

Dottie should be right at home at a winter carnival. Although she's never had much chance to ski down in Greenwich, Conn., Dottie is the outdoor type, a good tennis player and swimmer.

The vital statistics on Dot .. Height 5'4'', weight, 110, hair brown and eyes green.

Dot doesn't care for flashy clothes. In music her favorite selections are the soft, smooth ones.

Greenwich High was Dottie's Alma Mater

Art Benoit, chairman for St. John's and Aquinas, picked Dot to represent the two halls.

Barney Thompson, frosh, Aquinas, and also of Greenwich, is taking her to the Carnival.

Today's schedule includes a hockey game at 1 with an all star team from the Burlington League, speed skating at 3 in Roosevelt Park, basketball tonight at 6:45 and an informal dance and party afterwards.

For those who like their Winter Carnivals with as much winter as possible, there will be skiing and tobogganing at Underhill today.

SUNDAY PROGRAM

Sunday morning at 8 there will be a skiers' Mass in the College chapel and a trip to Stowe afterwards.

Although the weather man dealt the Outing Club a cruel blow the Carnival is going through as planned. Austin Hall, St. Michael's Campus, in fact, the whole of Burlington was considerably brightened yesterday and today with the addition of some 200 lovely visitors up for the Carnival.

With the basketball team playing the best ball of the season, tonight's St. Anselm's game should be rather terrific.

Tomorrow's ski trip is also a must for anyone who has never seen Stowe. A trip up the lift to the top of Mansfield should be a memorable experience, not to mention the ride down.

SPEED SKATING

Roosevelt Park will be the scene of the action this afternoon at 3 when the speed skaters meet the Dartmouth skaters in a five event meet.

St. Michael's has been preping for this meet since football season. Coach of the skaters is Vin Morin; Don Beauchemin is captain; Henry McGinnis, manager.

This afternoon's meet will include a 220, 440, 880, mile and relay. A cup is being awarded the winning team. Medals are awarded for first and second in each race.

St. Michael's team this afternoon will include: Beauchemin, Paul and Vin Morin, John Moran, Bob Flynn and Today's meet was arranged through the cooperation of Mr. Hammond and Mr. Letourneau of Burlington's Park Department.

HOCKEY GAME

The hockey team will get its first local outing this p.m. when it meets a crack Vermont amateur team on the College rink at 1.

This is St. Michael's second tilt. Wednesday night they met Norwich at Northfield.

So far this winter, the team has had 4 of its games washed out. The latest cancellation was yesterday's scheduled game with Vermont.

Game time today will be 1 o'clock. An all star team from the Burlington hockey league is providing the opposition.

Governor's Message

Governor Gibson has recommended to the Vermont State Legislature that it re-examine its scholarship aid program particularly as it affects St. Michael's.

The governor's action is a courageous one and an intelligent one. No Vermonter can fail to see his logic and our need.

Since 1937, Vermont students who chose to come to St. Michael's have been eligible for 15 scholarships worth $120 each. Administered by the State Board of Education, these have been offered one to each of the 14 counties and one at large, although county lines can be ignored if some county had no candidate.

In the first place $120 is not much help today, considering the cost of education and everything else. The governor's recommendation of $400 is a little more realistic.

In the second place, the governor is on sound ground when he suggests that more scholarships be made available.

Let's look at the record. St. Michael's gets no direct aid from the state like the other two large private colleges in the state.

During the last biennium, Middlebury was given $27,000 and Norwich received $53,175 from the state.

St. Michael's got nothing directly, although it did get $1800 through the scholarships available.

Today St. Michael's has more students than Norwich; we believe it has more Vermonters than Middlebury.

The unfairness is so apparent that we know the Vermont Legislature will take speedy steps to correct this injustice.

Good Retreat

Now is the time for good resolutions. In the spiritual sphere, each one knows the measures for improvement which he has vowed after the retreat. Father Ryan's keen analysis of our problems and our responsibility for solving them was a masterly piece of work. Our work is cut out for us.

On the scholastic side, neither the comments of our friends nor the admonitions of our profs will be nearly so eloquent as the marks themselves.

" Things will be different this semester" is the oft heard comment around campus.

The faculty may be forgiven if it takes this typical mid-year reaction with a grain of salt.

However, that doesn't excuse any of us from trying to better ourselves.

" First things first" is a pretty good rule in a place where education of mind, heart and soul are involved.

Let's hope that we beat our neighbors from across the Onion River in our next game so we won't have to put up with any more of their verse which is in inverse proportion to their athletic ability.

ODE TO THE PURPLE
The Destruction of a Myth

Ben Borgmann came down like a wolf on the fold
And his cohorts were gleaming in purple and gold
And the sheen of their spears was like the stars on the sea
When the blue wave rolls on the deep Winooski.

Like the leaves of the forest when summer is green
That host with their banners in Burlt'n were seen.
Like the leaves of the forest when Autumn hath blown
That host on the morrow lay withered and strown.

For the mighty old Cat spread his fangs on the blast
And scratched in the face of the foe as he pass'd.

And there lay the Knight distorted and pale
With the dew on his brow and the rust on his mail
And the tents were all silent, the banners alone
The lances unlifted, the trumpet unblown.

And the widows of Trinity are loud in their wail
And the " Wonder Boys" cry in Phil Melanson's ale
And the might of the Knight unsmote before that Hath melted like snow in the fangs of the Cat.

University of Vermont CYNIC

In the panels of the N.S.A. Publication Clinic at Wayne University's Student Center the conditions under which a college newspaper should operate were set forth by 80 students from 17 Michigan Universities. The students decided that the college paper should have the right to take an editorial stand at variance with the administration, but should recognize its obligations to the institution not to take a stand which is detrimental to the ultimate good of the institution. It was also decided that the student press should have the right to be present at all student government meetings and also meetings of the administration and faculty, with the right to report on those meetings at its discretion. The responsibility for all material appearing in the paper should rest with the student editor.

Order of the day: Michaelmen you have received another injection here at S.M.C. Most of the serum has taken but in some cases it left little effect. The S.S.E. and the faculty believe that we need more inoculations. This is why we will report daily for injections starting Feb. 3. You will continue with the prescription you received at your first appointment with your " Medical Adviser." Just follow the directions prescribed and the results will be miraculous. You are allowed to discontinue these inoculations three times but after that complications will set in. We the writers of The Mike will keep you posted for any new " Medical developments" where the discontinuing of the "shots" will be possible.

We have had our " medical examinations" and are now supposed ready for the new treatment. Frank Potvin informs us that he is all set to go and ready for another " A" from Prof. Witham ... And that Tony Pekarski is right behind him ... Have you heard about the new theological adviser in St. Pat's, his name is St. John .. Jim Monaco is getting closer and closer to that new car every day ... Hope you make it, Jim ... Our congratulations to Walt Coon, Bill Reagan, and Gus Contant for being elected by the Student Activities Council as delegates for the NFCCS. They will be college representatives at the next national meeting of all the Catholic Colleges belonging to the NFCCS.

A message to the " Mystery Writer" in Old Hall. You claim that your hall is being overlooked as far as THE MICHAELMAN is concerned. What is the trouble? Too lazy to go over and sit in on one of the Monday MICHAELMAN meetings and see just why you are being neglected? We of The Mike column have asked for reporters since the first of the year. What seems to be the trouble with you freshmen? Where is all that initiative your president, Tom Shields, is talking about?

Paul Gravel says that he might major in Philosophy next year ... Congratulations to Ed and Mary DePeter on the birth of a nine pound baby boy ... Bob Lilly, your folks want to know when you are coming home. They think that you are working too hard ... What do you tell them in your letters? ... Who is going to get THE vacant apartment in Miketown? Our best of luck to Mr. and Mrs. George McLean and their future ...

The Flatsman on 4th floor Old Hall, abstaining from fire-water because of the Retreat, celebrated the close of the Retreat with fire-crackers which loudly exploded to the annoyance of the other floors.

Shamrocks and Shillelaghs

SHAMROCKS to the college, administration and faculty, and especially to Mr. John Buchan and his staff for the new snack bar, better known as the College Room, in Austin Hall. To Bill Dillon for his new course in Apologetics in St. Patrick's Hall. To Clem Hamelle and his busy bee helpers for the thankless job they are doing to make the Winter Carnival a huge success. To our cleaning woman in Prevel Hall who is saving waste paper for the NFCCS drive.

To Father Ryan for his fine job here at the college. We all received a great deal from his lectures. Shillelaghs to the men who failed to attend the lectures. Shamrocks to Henry McGinnis for his work with THE SHIELD. To the students a big shillelagh who think they advanced by cribbing on the exams. Shamrocks to the Professors that got their marks back to the students early.

FOR ART'S SAKE — By FRASER

Tony Cauley

In last week's paper, we were a little mixed up on the Golden Gloves schedule, and as a result we gave out with some bum information. We stated that the semi-finals were to be held last week, while the finals were to be run off the week of this issue. We presumed all that, without checking on the plans of the people running the show; for if we had checked, we would have been told that the semi-finals and finals were to be held on the same night, which is just what happened. Regardless of the mixup however, the principles we are concerned with did themselves proud, as everyone figured they would. Both Jerry Finn and Harry Young won their semi-final bouts; the former by decision, and the latter via a two punch second-round knockout.

Due to the retreat, we were not able to see the bouts, but from the newspaper and radio accounts, both the fights involving these boys were beauts. Harry had a fairly easy time in his, but Jerry found rough sledding in Maurice Kelleher from Barre, who was last year's 146 pound champ. However it was Harry who came up with the injury that made the final between these two boys impossible. In the course of his bout, his thumb was sprained, and so Jerry Finn was declared the winner of the 160 pound class, with a trip to Lowell, Mass., for the New England Finals, as a prize. Good luck to Jerry, we all hope you make out as well as you did up here.

Following the retreat last week, the school was divided almost into two camps, namely those who enjoy skiing and those who do not. Those who do not headed for their respective homes, while those who do headed for nearby Mt. Mansfield. There were a few, like basketball players and George Cummings who hung around but did not ski, but they find themselves in a very small minority group. Other things besides skiing says George; maybe something to that, huh?

Getting back to the mountain, the skiing wasn't the best, due to the lack of powder, but it was nevertheless enjoyable. Plenty of fresh air, nice atmosphere, and Harvard accents; yes sir, you can't beat it. It feels good to rub elbows every once in awhile, with the people who have it; the Harvard accents we mean. A person could acquire an education by just sitting around up there and listening. For sure you would be able, after a few sessions, to tilt the nose at the proper angle, and say the word "Really" with the proper "Rail." Nevertheless, a good time was had by all.

St. Anselm's Here For Game Tonight

Flashy Hawks Rank With Country's Best

by TONY CAULEY

Fresh from an inspiring win over highly-touted Clarkson University last Saturday night, St. Mike's will attempt to put another one on the black side of the ledger tonight when they tangle with high flying St. Anselm's from Manchester, N.H. The game will be played at the Burlington Auditorium, with the opening whistle scheduled for 8:30.

St. Anselm's will carry an impressive 8-1 record into the game, plus an offensive record of nearly 75 points per game.

In the January 15 National Collegiate Athletic Ratings, St. Anselm's stood second among small schools with 76.8 per contest. One of their most impressive wins was a 58-37 victory over Springfield College, which was barely squeezed out by Vermont in a large sized upset.

It's a cinch that the Knights will have to be up in order to pull this one out, but after that sweet one last Saturday over heavily favored Clarkson, anything can happen. They played the kind of ball last week that they are capable of, and if they do it again, St. A's will be in for a rough night.

Monday night will find the Purple cagers travelling to Northfield for a return Vermont Conference game. The Purple took the measure of the Horsemen 57-28 at the Auditorium January 29. Norwich can't be figured to give the Knights much of a battle, but they excel in coming up with an upset once in awhile, as we well remember last year's game down there.

Knights Defeat Norwich Purple Revenge Frosh Luck

For the first time this season the Purple Knights looked like the Squires of last year as they turned back Norwich and Clarkson in two weekend tilts in Memorial Auditorium.

The transformation in the Knights' play came right in the middle of Saturday evening's Norwich tilt. After a lackadaisical first half which ended with the Purple on the heavy end of a 21-16 score, St. Michael's came out in the second half and poured 36 points into the baskets as against the Maroon's 12.

The rally began in the very first seconds of the period when Markey leapt high under the Knights' backboards, snagged a rebound and clawed his way through three Norwich men and passed downcourt. A moment later Burzenski dropped in a rebound and the flood gates opened.

While Markey and then Hart and then the whole club, caught fire, the Knights flipped in 28 quick points against 6 for Norwich. All 6 Norwich points were tallied by Jack Daley.

While Burzenski and Hart each played the best game of the season, it was Markey who stood the crowd up on the benches.

For the first time in months, Ed unveiled those driving lay-ups which sparked the freshman team a year ago.

CLARKSON GAME

With the Knights still maintaining a terrific pace, Clarkson was simply overwhelmed in Monday's game.

Clarkson was good. On the basis of comparative scores Clarkson was better than St. Michael's. The Scarlet lost to Amherst by 4 points, to Vermont by one. They had beaten St. Lawrence which in turn had dumped the Catamounts.

Clarkson had some very good men such as Herb Jahn and Steve Lesko. Monday night they didn't belong on the same floor with St. Michael's.

The Knights' superiority is shown by the margins they piled up over this good Clarkson quintet. Some of the scores which registered on Memorial Auditorium's new score board are: 9-0; 22-10; and 29-13 (half time score). In each case the first named score is St. Michael's.

Some of the second half scores are: 38-18; 49-29; and 60-34 at the end.

While every member of the team gave his finest performance to date, one of the most outstanding jobs was turned in by Jack Walsh. Throughout the first half, Jack guarded the highly rated Jahn and held him to exactly no points. This was unusual for Mr. Jahn who holds, or held, a 16 point scoring average. In the second half, with the reserves in and a more conventional defense, Jahn netted seven points.

This victory was doubly sweet for members of last year's frosh squad who suffered their only defeat at the hands of practically the same Clarkson squad which took the floor last Monday.

Besides proving that last winter's loss was obviously a fluke, accounted for by the diminutive Clarkson gym, the Knights also showed that they can play good basketball, certainly the best in Vermont.

Frosh Hoopsters Win Duo

by RAY HOWLAND

Paced by a sharp passing and shooting attack, the St. Michael's Freshmen continued on their mighty undefeated way last week, as they rolled over the Norwich J.V.'s and Rutland Junior College to the tune of 72-40 and 61-23, respectively, for their seventh and eighth consecutive victories.

Norwich was never in the game Saturday as the Squires jumped to a quick --- 15-5 lead at the quarter which was stretched to 36-18 by the halftime.

During the second half with Yankowski, Bogan and O'Connell continually pouring in baskets, the Squires kept up the high scoring attack to make it 72-40 by the final gun, the fourth time in the last seven games that the Frosh have hit the seventy mark.

Bob Kately led the attack with seven field goals and one foul shot for 15 points, followed by Yankowski and Brunton with 11 and 10 respectively. Lou DeSalvo topped the losers with nine markers.

In the Rutland Junior College game Monday, if you could call it a game, the Squires scored almost at will, rolling up a 61-23 count.

The Frosh started slowly, taking a 14-6 quarter lead, but opened up in the next stanza on slick plays by Farley, Provost, and Kately to stretch the lead to 34-11.

In the third quarter R.J.C. could score only four points while the Squires tallied 15 to make the score 49-15.

The final quarter was about the same with subs Yankowski, Fay and Bogan dropping in baskets to make the final tally 61-23.

Hub Weekend

The round trip price of $14 was set on the basis of 500 reservations, with students getting a $12.50 price.

Next Thursday has been set as the deadline for reservations for the Boston basketball excursion, the weekend of Feb. 26.

Athletic Director Doc Jacobs says that unless the 500 reservations are made by that time, the special train cannot be made up. That means that either the trip will be made by bus or cancelled.

SCIENCE HALL

Built by the contributions of Vermont, student and alumni groups, the new Science Hall at St. Michael's College was put into use for the first time Thursday. Classes began for the second semester for the 1000 students now enrolled at the college. Lecture rooms are all set with some lab installation due to be finished before they are needed.

Finally costing nearly $550,000 to build and equip, the Science Hall gives St. Michael's the most modern science facilities in the state. About half the amount was raised by a drive last year throughout Vermont. James J. Carney of Burlington was general chairman.

A three story, Georgian colonial brick building, is fireproof, with lighting, heating and ventilating of the most efficient. The building houses the Physics department on the first floor; the Chemistry department on the second floor and the Biology department on the top floor.

Two small auditoriums on the first floor with sloping, theatre style floors make seeing and hearing easy. The ceilings are treated so that virtually all noise is eliminated. Each room can be individually heated and ventilated.

Special rooms have been set aside for research by graduate students and faculty members.

In addition to the lavatories on each of the three floors, there are separate lavatories for the women who study at summer sessions.

Dedication exercises will be staged later in the year.

The Dean of Men, Rev. Dr. Lorenzo D'Agostino, has been honored by the Vermont Conference of Social Welfare.

Father D'Agostino was elected chairman of the Legislative committee.

Retreat Wind Up

Health Authority On Vt. Forum Slate

An outstanding figure in the movement to bring better medical services to the American public will take part in the next meeting of Vermont Forums, Wednesday, February 9 in the City Hall auditorium, at 8.

He is Michael Davis, chairman of the Committee for the Nation's Health and well known authority on hospital administration and medical economics.

Since Mr. Davis and Mr. Joe T. Lovett, another of the three speakers, represent opposite points of view on the question of medical insurance, a sharp debate is expected. Also on the program will be Dr. Robert Aiken of Vermont's Department of Public Health.

'Kingdom of Blind' Has Crack Cast

LILLY LANCOUR RUEST HEENEHAN

Here are the four male leads in the Knights and Knaves forthcoming dramatic play "Kingdom of the Blind," slated Feb. 18 and 19 in Austin Hall.

Bill Heenehan as Father Boyd and Bob Lilly as the farmer Jess are two veteran members of the dramatic society.

Heenehan, a junior and native of Springfield, Mass., graduated from Cathedral High School in 1946. Active in dramatics here at college, Bill was this year elected Vice President of the large organization.

In Freshman year Bill appeared in "The Gent" and last year was seen and heard in the Trinity operetta "Chimes of Normandy;" in the radio play "The importance of Being Earnest;" and traveled with the thespians to the Boston Intercollegiate Festival with the one act play "Hyacinth Halvey."

In 1946 Bob Lilly graduated from Drury High School in North Adams, Mass., where as a member of the high school dramatic club he had participated in various plays among them the Senior Class Play. At St. Michael's, Lilly, a junior, has appeared in both last year's sophomore class play and this year's junior class play.

Elected secretary of the K & K this year, Bob has also appeared in various radio plays last year and his freshman year.

NEWCOMERS

Two newcomers to St. Michael's are Ed Ruest and Howie Lancour, both freshmen.

Ruest playing the cold and calculating psychiatrist in "Kingdom of the Blind" comes from West Somerville, Mass. Graduated from Cheverus High School in Portland, Maine, in 1946, Ed joined the navy for a two year enlistment.

Howie Lancour of Springfield, Mass., is a Cathedral High School graduate. In high school, Lancour participated in various dramatic activities and also was associated with the Springfield Civic Theatre. Last year Howie served as a staff announcer for radio station WSFL in Springfield.

Others in the cast of "Kingdom of the Blind" to be presented Feb. 18 and 19 in Austin Hall are: Vincent Lawless; Bernard Thompson; Richard Wall; Paul Mitchell; Robert Sullivan; and Robert Bonnette.

Female roles in the cast will be taken by Mary Polworth; Pauline Landry; Lenore Fleeman; Beverly Massung; and Rita Schoen.

REGISTRAR GETS DESERVED HAND

Hats are being doffed on campus to Registrar Thomas A. Garrett for the smooth operation of registration for the second semester.

Dave Carreau zipped through the usually long routine in two minutes flat Wednesday, as the first man in line. Others reported they were through in 10 minutes.

Interest was expressed in the new type of cards. They will be used in a new filing system which enables a clerk to run a needle through a stack of cards and pull out those pertaining to a specially coded unit, such as all the veterans, or all the students from Vermont, or all the English majors.

Twenty-five freshmen and transfer students arrived on campus. The number that fell by the wayside has not yet been totalled, though Mr. Garrett said it would be well within the usual percentage.

"The Informer," Academy Award winning film of the Black and Tan persecutions, will be presented Tuesday night, Feb. 8 by the Knights and Knaves in Austin Hall.

Summer Theater Season Adds 2 Weeks This Year

The St. Michael's College Playhouse will have to add two more weeks beyond the regular drama school session, Prof. Henry Fairbanks, executive director of the Playhouse, announced today. The eight week season will run from June 28 to Aug. 20.

Requests from Northern Vermont theatergoers and businessmen following last season's success brought about the extension, he said.

Eliot Duvey, company director, and most of the resident Equity A company which have been so popular, will return, Fairbanks said.

The first integrated professional theater and drama school in the country, St. Michael's will offer eight plays Tuesday through Saturday nights.

The apprentices this year will not only be given the traditional minor roles, but will also be given a chance to star in apprentice productions.

The drama school is part of the summer session which this year enters its 11th season. The integrated theater and drama school project began in 1947.

Such visiting stars as Blanche Yurka, Freddie Bartholomew, Julie Haydon and Lynn Masters have joined the resident company.

Michaelman Scoops Lance on 'Nuf Ced'

by JOE O'CONNELL

The much discussed campus mystery has been solved. With every available reporter sleuthing down dorm corridors and peeking through keyholes, the editors' of Old Hall's "Nuf Ced" sheet have been unearthed.

At long last, here are the cloak and dagger boys: Don Flynn, from Newton, Mass., and John Gardner via Bristol, Vt. These two lads have started a worthy venture by editing "Our (K)nights at Old Hall."

It is hoped that this newsy chatter will bring Old Hallers closer together. By its friendly conversation, this weekly thumb tack-page will aid the students in getting better acquainted.

The moderator of the "Michaelman" (that large size journalistic edition with the de luxe editorial staff) this week said, "The enthusiasm displayed by these unknown Winchells, especially during exam period, is the same spirit which I hope will be transmitted to our writers."

Harry Wilson, news editor for THE MICHAELMAN, was exuberant because he scooped the "Lance," on the all important identity of the mystery writers. Harry can at last end the sleepless watch.
